Our customers travel in remote locations and need to protect valuable and delicate equipment from dust, water, and of course, abuse by airport baggage handlers. Pelican™ cases have been used from the top of Mount McKinley to the battle fields of Iraq and Afghanistan and are internationally-recognized for their ruggedness.

Whether you need to protect firearms, computers, cameras, or emergency supplies, a Pelican case is your best choice. Various colors are available including black, silver/gray, high visibility orange or yellow, and desert tan. Some Micro™ series cases have a transparent lid option so you can see your equipment. Some larger cases include wheels and extendable tote handles.

SPECIAL FEATURES

CUSTOM FOAMS:

We can build a custom foam for any type of equipment you wish to protect. This includes multi-layer foams with separators. Just leave your equipment with us and we'll build it. Customer must pay development fee for prototype.

CUSTOM INTEGRATIONS:

Are you an emergency responder or government entity needing rapidly deployable equipment. Outfitter Satellite will integrate your equipment into a Pelican case. In the past, we have integrated satellite phones, fax machines, batteries and more into Pelican hardcases. Come by our office and we will show you samples. Custom integrations require customer to pay development cost on one prototype. Subsequent units would be at a reduced cost based on the number of units needed.
